

We're proud of BRI's recent updates & developments.
You should be, too.
After all, our success is *because of you!

Greetings!

We hope you know how valued you are as someone who supports BRI. Since our inception in 2013, we've kept apace with our growth -- with memberships and donor supporters, and with the growing awareness and excitement over free market healthcare policy gaining ground on medical school campuses around the country.

Every week I get emails and phone calls from students, doctors and entrepreneurs asking for more information, or how to get involved with BRI.

To make getting involved with BRI as easy as possible, we spent the better part of this year improving our website. Please check it out. We think you'll enjoy the updated navigation, colors and themes, interactive chapters map, events calendar, and much more!

To be sure, there are still pages that need tweaking . . . and we're addressing them as fast as we can. If you find something broken, please let us know! Meanwhile, we think it's a beautiful website, and it's a statement of your enormous support and encouragement over the years.

TAKE ME TO BRI

From all of us at BRI, thank you sincerely from our hearts for staying with us, believing in us, doing your part for healthcare freedom and preserving the patient-doctor relationship!

In gratitude,

What else has BRI been up to?

BRI's 2016-17 End of Year Report is now online

BRI's annual End of Year (EOY) report is our chance to brag about our incredible student leaders and chapter members who keep the liberty flame burning on their campuses.

***Take a look at BRI's online EOY report***

...

From volunteer events raising funds for the disadvantaged, to impacting state health

Working with medical students and professionals to protect the doctor-patient relationship and preserve healthcare freedom.

policy legislation, to bringing awareness about direct primary care, and so much more . . . you'll be amazed at what BRI leaders have accomplished this past academic year.

... and get re-inspired about your vision for quality, affordable healthcare that protects the patient-doctor relationship!

ONE MORE THING . . . a note about memberships & donations

Pre-med & Medical Students

We have redesigned BRI's membership area. "Members" are now only Pre- and -Medical students, because they're the ones who benefit directly from being a BRI member. A student membership in BRI affords the opportunity to gain conference scholarships, obtain letters of recommendation for various purposes, apply for internships with BRI, and more.

If you are a pre-med or medical student, please use the link below to become a BRI member or renew your annual membership:

Doctors, Healthcare & Other Professionals, General Public

Doctors, healthcare and other professionals, faculty and the general public who are not medical students are now officially BRI "Supporters."

Please use this form for any donations or to renew an annual gift:

BRI Supporters Form

What hasn't changed is that we deeply appreciate annual student membership renewals and annual (or more frequent!) support from non-students.
